

BECOME A SOM CORPORATE SUPPORTER AND JOIN THE OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH COMMUNITY

COME AND JOIN OUR VIBRANT COMMUNITY!

Nick Pahl, Chief Executive

By becoming a SOM Corporate Supporter, you will align yourself with a nationally recognised organisation that represents some of the world's foremost experts in workplace health.

Your support will link with our mission to promote excellence in the field through our work in education and careers and sharing innovation via our journal and events.

Our charitable focus also means that you will be supporting our programme of work to engage with the public to increase understanding of occupational health (OH), for example through our annual Occupational Health Awareness Week.

In return, being a Corporate Supporter provides your company with benefits and opportunities to raise your profile and create business-to-business relationships. These include attendance at our events, a website listing, and a free advert.

Our Corporate Supporters form a key part of our community. We aim to work with you as partners to foster collaborations, supporting OH and ensure it creates business opportunities for you.

ABOUT THE SOCIETY OF OCCUPATIONAL MEDICINE (SOM)

The SOM runs a calendar of events and training activities, and a programme of grants, prizes and awards. SOM has a focus on education and careers work, and a schedule of public engagement activities.

Through our journal, Occupational Medicine, we promote shared knowledge and best practice. Our Corporate Supporters enable all these activities to continue. Becoming a Corporate Supporter allows you access to this community.

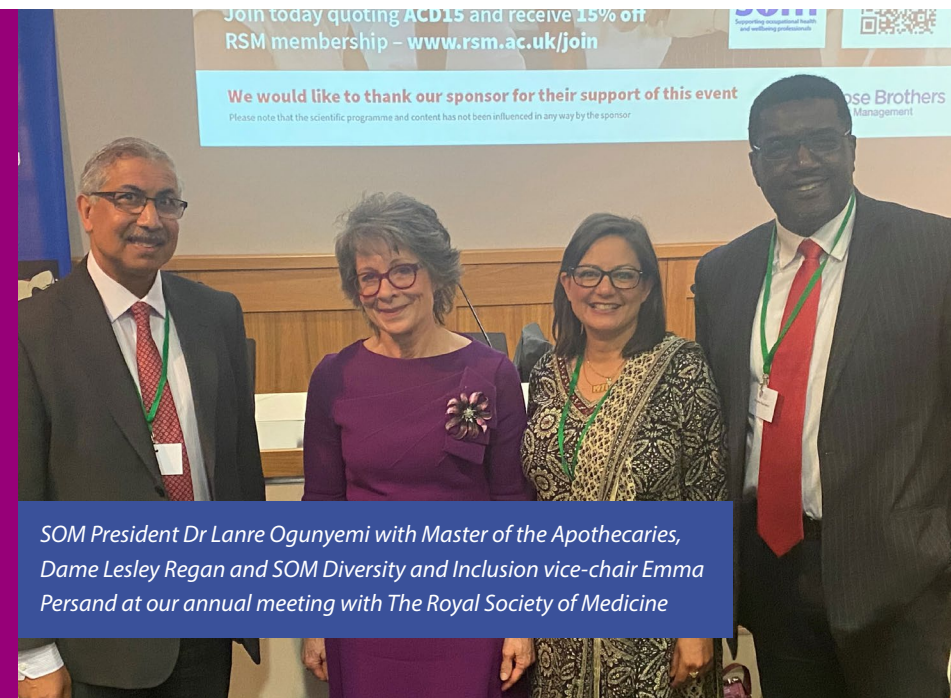

We are an ambitious and high-achieving organisation, and over the past four years our membership has increased. Our focus is on harnessing the collective strength of our membership to increase support for occupational health (OH), influence high-level policy and research priorities, strengthen public understanding of OH, support current and future generations of OH professionals across their careers and forge new partnerships.
